Snappy Answers to Government Questions, Part 12 (25–30 Minutes)

TEACHER INSTRUCTIONS

Goal

This activity helps students come up with Biblical, informative answers to government questions asked by hypothetical friends/acquaintances/critics/random strangers who accost them on street corners.

Instructions

1. Read the instructions together.
2. Give students 12–15 minutes to answer the questions INDIVIDUALLY (reminder: students' answers must be 20 words or fewer!). You can go a few minutes over the suggested time limit if the students are really getting into their answers, of course!
3. Tell students: “Don’t let anyone see your answers!”
4. When time’s up, collect the answer sheets.
5. Tell students: “You’re going to vote for the best, most-accurate, and snappiest-without-being-rude answers to these five questions. DO NOT VOTE FOR YOUR OWN ANSWERS.”
6. Read Question #1 out loud, followed by all the answers students wrote to that question.
7. Ask students one at a time to vote for the answer to Question #1 that they thought was the best, and tally up the votes.
8. Announce: “The winner to Question #1 is [answer here], which was written by [student name here]!”
9. Continue with Questions #2 – #4 until all votes are taken.
10. (If you want, you can award bonus points to winners.)

Snappy Answers to Government Questions, Part 12

Come up with an answer to these four questions that a friend/acquaintance/critic asks you about American government topics we've discussed. Each answer must be...

- (a) snappy (20 words or fewer),
- (b) correct/accurate, and
- (c) polite—no rude insults (but feel free to use humor to make your point ☺).

The Questions:

1. "The government needs to shut down some of that dangerous speech—I mean, you can't go around falsely shouting 'Fire!' in a theater, can you?"

2. "I think the government should just print more money and give it to everyone. Won't that make us all a lot richer?"

3. "Of course the U.S. government needs to have a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention! Are you crazy? Do you just want everybody in the U.S. to go around sick and dying all the time?"

4. "Well, I guess there's nothing the President can do about that law Congress passed over his veto, especially since the Supreme Court rule it was constitutional. Or is there?"

Now, go back and make sure your answers are all 20 words or fewer!
